Craig said, "My air conditioning in my house was going out and being a quadriplegic and needing my body regulated, I needed to get it fixed. Unfortunately it is thousands of dollars so I'm stuck without air because I just can't afford it being on Social Security now since my accident.

"The air conditioning company that came to my house, Service Champions, is out of Yorba Linda. The guy who came to my house, Luke Shaffer, sympathized with my injury and was blown away (like everyone) with my service monkey. They discussed it within their company (owner Leland Smith) to waive the cost and donate their services and parts at no charge to me.

"I thought that since I have never received a handout from charity, my government or anything for that matter, that it would be nice to let people know how awesome this one company was to help a guy out in a wheelchair by doing something for nothing for this guy on disability and his helper monkey."

We think it is awesome what Service Champions did for Craig. Hear they are a special company and have received all kind of awards.

UPDATE • Because of a scheduling conflict that has arisen, Cathy Rigby will not be able to appear as the grand marshal of the La Habra Host Lions Club's annual Corn Festival Parade, organizer Kathy Felix said.

"I have quite a few people looking," Felix said.

She did announce that John and Tille Campos, owners of Senor Campos and regular volunteers in the community will be the Community Grand Marshals. And she said, the Kids' Grand Marshal will be Batman and Robin characters and an authentic Batmobile. BIZ NEWS • La Habra residence Bernice Gutierrez has opened Cremation and Burial Care at 860 E. La Habra Blvd. She said her prices are reasonable and she does quality work.

PEOPLE • Identical twins and football players Lukas McCarthy (LB) and Jakob McCarthy (RB/LB), of Sonora High School, are playing in the North/South All-Star Game.
